The Leading European Trade Fair

denkmal 2020 – Europe's Leading Trade Fair for Conservation, Restoration and Old Building Renovation will be one to remember. Extraordinary times call for extraordinary measures – we are all the more pleased with the positive responses from our exhibitors, partners and visitors, who will come together to once again make denkmal the leading industry platform for innovative products, tried-and-tested solutions and specialised services in 2020. Welcome to denkmal 2020 in Leipzig.

EXHIBITION

Well-known companies with special products for the preservation and restoration of monuments, national and international market leaders, specialist companies in the field of monument conservation, institutions as well as craftsmen, restorers and architects will be presenting at denkmal. The exhibitor list can be found online at www.denkmal-leipzig.com/exhibitors-products

MEETING PLACE

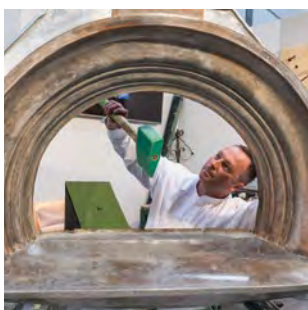

All those involved in monument preservation and restoration come together at denkmal: craftsmen, restorers, architects, industrial enterprises, companies that specialise in the conservation of monuments, planners, conservationists, specialised authorities, academics, young professionals, owners of historical buildings, investors, builders, volunteers and committed citizens engaged in monument preservation.

CONFERENCE PROGRAMME

denkmal is the largest further education and training event for the entire industry. With congresses, specialist events and panel discussions, this year denkmal will once again provide a top-class platform for exchanging ideas and knowledge. In 2020, denkmal will focus on monument restoration and preservation in the era of climate change.

The full conference and social programme is currently available at www.denkmal-leipzig.com/programme

CULTURAL HERITAGE

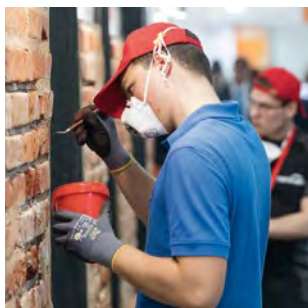

More than just a trade fair – denkmal offers outstanding insights into the many facets of restoration and monument preservation. Discover historical materials, rare craftsmanship, engaging workshops and exciting forums.

YOUNG PROFESSIONALS

Experts and specialists share their knowledge with the experts of tomorrow and provide information on the multitude of career options in monument preservation and restoration.

INTERNATIONAL NETWORKING

We will again facilitate international exchange this year. International participants from the Netherlands, Poland, the Czech Republic, Austria and Switzerland, among others, are registered.

We are looking forward to international conferences and events in the forums of the exhibition hall.

The international communications platform CONTACT – Networking & Matchmaking will be launched more comprehensively in 2020, enabling visitors and exhibitors to participate virtually for the first time. Please find more information and register at

HYGIENE CONCEPT

Protecting our visitors, exhibitors and partners is our top priority. Safety is guaranteed with a hygiene concept that has been examined and approved by the responsible health authority. Information about the concept, which includes all measures and regulations can be accessed online at www.denkmal-leipzig.com/visitors

STRONG TOGETHER

MUTEC – the International Trade Fair for Museum and Exhibition Technology will take place at the same time as denkmal. As a new partner of MUTEC, ICOM Deutschland e.V. emphasises the growing importance of the trade fair.

The Lehmbau trade fair will once again form an integral part of denkmal, with a programme that complements the range of products and services presented at denkmal and impressively demonstrates the wide range the historical building material has to offer in the preservation of monuments and the renovation of old buildings.
